

Landcare in South West Sydney

Landcare is a national community based network of volunteers who care for our country and its environment. Together, Landcare volunteers in partnership with government and business are doing something practical about protecting and repairing our environment. Landcare and Bushcare groups in Western Sydney are playing an important role in helping to maintain and restore remnants of the endangered Cumberland Plain Woodland. If you would like to get involved with a group near you can contact one of the following

Barragal Landcare

Meet second Saturday and third Sunday each month (8.30 am to 12.00 noon) Fourth Friday each month at Barragal lagoon catchment (7.30 am to 3.30 pm) at Elizabeth Macarthur Agricultural Institute (EMAI), Menangle.

Contact: Roger Giles on 0447 715 615 and Mick Starr on 0407 557 950.

Razorback Landcare

The group is working towards preserving and enhancing the rural and natural features of the Razorback environment across private property in the Razorback range near Picton.

Contact: Julie Sheppard on (02) 4636 6301

Theresa Park Landcare

Regenerating the bushland in the community title area of the Theresa Green estate near Cobbitty.

Contact: Chris Nicholson on 0419 149 086

Western Sydney Aboriginal Landcare Group

The group works on a small section of Ropes Creek in Minchinbury to improve the riparian zone. The group's main activities including weed control and bush regeneration.

Contact: Margaret Bottrell on 0415 612 416

Western Sydney Conservation Alliance

The group's main objective is to conserve and promote conservation of the natural environment of Western Sydney

Contact: Geoff Brown on 0431 222 602

Horsley Park Landcare

Restoring and revegetating with Cumberland Plain Woodland species on private property in Horsley Park.

Contact: David Sellen on 0408 469 400

Mulgoa Valley Landcare

The group works across many private properties in the Mulgoa Valley with activities including: Controlling weeds, reducing soil and creek bank erosion, conserving the local bushland and promoting community participation in Landcare.

Contact: Lisa Harrold on (02) 4733 3444

